Fierce Storm Strikes Texas Panhandle

Wires Down And Roads Strwn With Trees and Poles

DALLAS, Nov. 25.—(P)—Meager reports from ice-bound Amarillo today said a freezing rain had stopped there, promising some relief from the storm which isolated the city and other communities in the panhandle.

Highways and streets were littered with poles, wires and trees while utility company repair crews struggled to restore disrupted communication lines. Amarillo has spoken only intermittently with the outside world by short wave radio since a growing sheath of ice mantled the area.

Radio amateurs from Lubbock and Dallas reported they found it necessary to relay messages by way of Hawaii, and points as far east as West Virginia, to Amarillo. Last night Amarillo was virtually without power or water.

No report had been received from Borger and Pampa.

Panhandle highways were strewn with trees, wires and poles which snapped like straws beneath a 5-inch coat of frozen mist which had been gathering for 24 hours. The Southwestern Bell Telephone Company rushed 32 crews from all over Texas with 1,200 new poles.

In central east Texas rains continued to send flood waters over thousands of acres of rich farming land.

Henry Wallace, vice president-elect, was somewhere in rain-drenched east Texas en route to Mexico for the presidential inauguration of Gen. Avila Camacho. Reports at Laredo said Wallace, who left Meridian, Miss., by auto Saturday, would not arrive at the border until tonight.

R. L. Rolfe and Henry Nelson, operating amateur radio station WSDAM, transmitted Associated Press dispatches from Dallas to station W5CYX in the office of the Amarillo New Globe. Reports that fires, started by broken power lines, were burning in several parts of Amarillo were denied by W5CYX.

The ice-bound area extended from Amarillo 25 miles south and east and northwest into Colorado and New Mexico.

Autos Are Stalled

Clovis, N. M., on the fringe of the sleet area, had only one telephone line out of town—to Roswell, N. M. Highway crews worked through the night to keep roads open in northern and east central New Mexico. Secondary roads were blocked. Many cars were stalled.

A major flood threatened in the lower Little river valley which drains most central Texas streams into the Brazos.

The river was a half mile wide at Camero, Tex., where R. L. Batte, a planter, reported flood crests of the Lampasas and Leon rivers had not yet arrived. They were expected within 24 hours.

Highways were under water over a wide section. Trains were rerouted because of track washouts. Damage was widespread to farm lands and country roads. Livestock losses were heavy.

The brunt of the flood was borne by the areas around Temple, Cameron, Nacogdoches, Corsicana, Palestine and Carthage, Tex., and Logansport, La.

The Sabine river rampaged near the record 41 feet established at Carthage in 1932. A 45-foot gap was pounded in the dam at Lake Dixie, one of the largest lakes in east Texas.

A flotilla of 100 small boats worked along the Sabine, roping and towing cattle to safety.

The rains, which lanketed virtually the entire state, ranged as high as 14 inches in some places over the week-end.

At least seven Texans were killed in traffic accidents on mist-shrouded highways.

Continue Trials In Bribery Cases

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 25.—(P)—The circuit court trials of T. J. Penderfast and R. E. O'Malley on charges of bribery were continued today until January 6 at the request of Roy W. Rucker, representing the state attorney general's office.

The accusations grew out of the compromise settlement of the Missouri fire insurance rate case. Penderfast is charged with bribing a public official and O'Malley, former state superintendent of insurance, is charged with accepting a bribe.

Safe Crackers Get $416 In Loot

CARTHAGE, Mo., Nov. 25.—(P)—Nitroglycerine was used by burglars to blow open the safe of the Farmers Exchange, a unit of the Missouri Farmers Association, near the heart of the Carthage business district during the night.

Fred Demott, manager, said the loss was $416 including $193 in checks.

Donations For Nursery Helpful

The Melita Day Nursery board, matron and others interested in that institution are deeply appreciative of numerous donations made recently a goodly portion of which will help supply food for the children cared for there in the coming weeks.

Last Wednesday through generous gifts of food a fine feast suitable to the Thanksgiving season was served at the nursery to between fifty and sixty children.

Slovakia The Sixth Country Into The Axis

Dissention In Bulgaria Evident On Balkan Affairs

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
BERLIN, Nov. 25.—(P)—Informed sources made the surprising assertion today that the Hungarian, Rumanian and Slovak signatures to the three-power pact ended the present series of acquisitions to the axis.

They said nothing was known as yet about Bulgarian leaders coming to Berlin. Bulgaria previously had been viewed as most likely to become the seventh member of the Home-Berlin-Tokyo alliance.

This development came a short time after Germany sounded her first warning to Greece since the Italian invasion in a statement in the semi-official Deutsche Diplomatische-Politische Korrespondenz, calling Greece Premier John Metaxas "a tool of the British policy of spreading war."

This statement, the nearest yet to any German suggestion that Greece is fighting not only against Italy but against German interests in the Balkans, followed by only a few hours yesterday the signing of tiny Slovakia as the sixth member of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo alliance.

Authorized sources in Berlin said the fact Bulgaria was not expected to affiliate with the axis at the present time had nothing to do with developments in Turkey. They said the second round of signatures had been completed, the first having been the original three-power pact and the second the adherence of the three additional nations. These sources asserted that all reports of an early Bulgarian state visit had been of foreign, not German origin.

Foreign diplomatic quarters in the German capital believe Bulgaria's signature would seem untimely at a moment when Bulgaria is faced with a political crisis.

(Dispatches from Sofia have indicated dissention within the Bulgarian government over the question of signing the three-power pact.)

The Russian appointment of vice-commissar of foreign affairs V. G. DeKanozoff as ambassador to Berlin was regarded as significant by the Wilhelmstrasse, which described him as an "important personality of the Russian commissariat for foreign affairs."

Another of the series of German-Italian meetings took place today when Count Dino Grandi, Italian minister of justice and president of the Chamber of Fasces and Guilds, was received at the chancellery by Adolf Hitler at noon.

Grandi, arriving in Berlin for a brief visit, was received ceremoniously at the Anhalter station, which was decorated with Italian and German flags in his honor.

Slovakia Into Pact

Slovakia, Nazi-protected remnant of pre-war Czechoslovakia, followed Hungary and Rumania into the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo 10-year military and economic alliance with the customary ceremony in Berlin yesterday.

Resignation Not Submitted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—(P)—The White House said today that Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, had not submitted her resignation and "the President had not discussed resignation with her."

This assertion came from Stephen Early, secretary, when asked for comment on a story in the New York Times that Miss Perkins had tendered her resignation and President Roosevelt had accepted it.

Early was asked by newsmen whether his statement meant that Miss Perkins, first woman cabinet member and an appointee to the original Roosevelt cabinet in 1933, would continue in her present capacity during the President's third term.

"I don't know anything about continuation or any other phase of it," the presidential secretary replied.

Opinion On Officials' Pay

Population Figures Not Alter Them In Present Year

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 25.—(P)—The attorney general's office held today that the federal census figures changing county populations could not be used to alter the salaries of any county officials this year.

The opinion ruled that salaries—based on populations—could not be increased or decreased until the close of the officials' fiscal year and that no officer was entitled to back salary retroactive to April 1, effective date of the new census.

The compensation of county clerks, treasurers, prosecuting attorneys, circuit clerks and some other officials are regulated by federal census figures. Most of them begin their new fiscal years in January.

"It is the opinion of this department," said the ruling, "that the circuit clerk, prosecuting attorney and other county officers affected by the decrease or increase of the population could only be paid in accordance with said increase or decrease at the beginning of the next fiscal year of his term after the population had been determined by the federal government, and that no increase be allowed or decrease be ordered before the first day of the fiscal year following the year 1940."

"Another question that will arise," said the opinion, "is whether or not the office of circuit clerk and recorder of deeds should be combined when the population of the county is shown by the official census to be lower than 20,000."

"It is the opinion of this department that since the office of recorder of deeds shall remain a separate office for the entire term for which such persons have been or may be elected, then it is not affected by the decennial census of 1940 and by reason of this section the office of the circuit clerk shall remain separate and apart from the office of the recorder of deeds."

Couple of Runs By Fire Companies

The fire companies at 11 o'clock this morning were called to the residence of E. F. Hall, 666 East Thirteenth street, where fire which started in a heating pipe had caused about $10 damage.

Insurance is carried to cover the loss.

Fire of undetermined origin did about $25 damage to a rooming house at 200 North Ohio avenue, which is occupied by William Mathews and John Taylor, colored. The companies answered this alarm at 9:55 o'clock.

Lamy Company Given Contract

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—(P)—The war department announced award of the following contracts to Missouri companies:

Overman and Company, Springfield, 60,000 pair light serge trousers, $38,805; A. F. Martin Manufacturing Company, Tipton, 30,000 pair light serge trousers, $17,091; J. A. Lamy Manufacturing Company, Sedalia, 12,000 denim working suits, $24,587; Pyramid Clothing Manufacturing Company, St. Louis, 5,000 denim working suits, $9,450.

'Clean Up Or Close Up' Urge

Walker Pierce Speaks To Rotary On Beer Industry

The "Clean Up Or Close Up" program of the Missouri Brewers' Association and Beer Distributors' committee is an honest effort on the part of the $115,000,000 brewing industry in this state to aid in the enforcement of the liquor laws Walker Pierce, president of the committee, told members of the Rotary club at its weekly luncheon Monday noon at the Bothwell hotel.

"The brewers and distributors know that the unlawful, disorderly and noisy beer retail establishment influences public opinion in its neighborhood and that decent groups of citizens should not and will not long tolerate that kind of an establishment," Mr. Pierce stated.

"They also know that everybody notices the one black sheep in any family. For that reason, this program will insure to the public's benefit. It will, we hope, insure for you a more peaceful, law-abiding community. It will save for your schools at least a part of their revenue and it will save for the United States government some of the funds with which to pay an enormous debt and some of the funds with which we might be able to defend ourselves."

Gallage Taxes

Calling attention to the economic value of the brewing industry in Missouri, the speaker said that the eight Missouri breweries comprising the Missouri Brewers' Association last year paid the federal government in gallage taxes alone $21,000,000 or approximately $60,000 a day. This amount did not include general property taxes, income and sales taxes to which all are subject.

In addition the state of Missouri in 1939, the speaker said, received $960,000 in gallage taxes or approximately $2,200 a day, of which amount $358,038.64 went to the support of the schools.

"Then you see that because of its vast contribution to the support of the general obligations of our government, to the support of our schools, this industry is an integral part of the economic life of the state of Missouri—benefits which I think you will deem worthy of consideration," Mr. Pierce said.

"I believe that I state the views of a majority of the people of this state in saying that all of us would like to procure for ourselves the certainty of the economic benefits which I have recited, provided, however, that we do not at the same time bring ourselves a recurrence of some of the anti-social conditions which

Ireland's Prime Minister Dies

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Nov. 25.—(P)—John Miller Andrews today was elevated from the post of deputy prime minister of Northern Ireland to be prime minister, succeeding Viscount Craigavon, who died unexpectedly last night.

The appointment followed a three-hour cabinet session at which the members said they were confronted by a "ticklish legal problem" since there was no precedent for selecting a successor to a prime minister who dies in office.

Andrews was summoned to an audience with the Duke of Abercorn, governor of Northern Ireland, after the cabinet session broke up.

Slender and white-haired, Andrews is 69 years old. He has been finance minister since 1937 and previously had been labor minister from 1921 to 1937. He had been a member of the Northern Ireland Parliament since its inception in 1921.

Lord Craigavon, first and only prime minister since the Ulster government was formed in 1921, was a bitter foe of proposals for union of Ireland (Eire) and Northern Ireland (Ulster) and his death occurred as various rumors circulated of a proposal for a united Ireland in return for leasing Irish naval bases to Britain.

Craigavon, 69, worked to the end although he had not been in good health. His death was believed due to a heart attack.

Guardsmen Inducted Into Service of U. S.

Examinations By Army Officers Are Being Conducted

Members of the Missouri National Guard units in Sedalia, Headquarters Battery, the Combat Battery and Battery F, 128th Field Artillery, at 8 o'clock this morning were inducted into the National Guards of the United States, when they mobilized at the guard armory on West Second street.

Immediately after the orders of mobilization were read, the members of the various batteries began to receive their medical examinations before the Medical Examining Board headed by Lieutenant Colonel James W. Graham, Medical Reserve officer, of Kansas City.

Other officers of the board who are busy examining the youths are Captain Albert Lieberman, Jr., Medical Reserve, Kansas City, and First Lieutenant James O. Smith, Medical Reserve, Clinton.

Up until late this afternoon none had been rejected because of failure to meet physical requirements and those who have already been informed of being passed appeared joyous. Others who were still standing in line waiting to be examined had that "wonder look" in their eyes.

The Second Battalion staff officers, present today are Executive Officer Major James E. Norlin of Sedalia, Captain William A. Johnson of Booneville, Captain Earl W. Bacon of Columbia, Lieutenant Eugene Wolf of Sedalia and Lieutenant Russell A. Mann of Clinton.

Fed At Park

At the noon hour the National Guardsmen were taken to Liberty Park where field kitchens have been set and received their first meal as members of the National Guards of the United States. As the boys passed their examinations they went to the hall where they prepared to get under training for the next year.

All guardsmen will be fed their breakfast, dinner and supper at convention hall and many of those will sleep at the hall. It was said several of the members who reside in Sedalia and are married will have an opportunity to sleep at their homes but must be on the "line" in time for roll call.

Captain Harry O. Berry, of Headquarters Battery accounted for every man in his Battery and the combat unit, as did First Lieutenant Patrick Handley of Battery F.

Two Privates of Battery F were omitted from the list of members in the paper Sunday morning. They were Privates Oliver Hunter Jr., and Joseph C. Frownfelter.

Theft of Gun of Officer England From Home

The home of Officer Lawrence N. England, 606 East Eleventh street, was entered by thieves sometime the past few days and his .45-caliber automatic gun was stolen along with the holster.

An official report was made to the police who made notations on the daily police "blotter."

Thieves Enter Bar

Thieves Sunday evening entered the Main Street Bar, in the 100 block on East Main street, but nothing was stolen. As the proprietor, B. A. Fisher, walked in the front door he heard someone run out the back way.

Special Meeting of Federation of Labor

The Sedalia Federation of Labor will hold a special meeting Tuesday night, in Labor Hall. Officers of all local unions are invited to this meeting.

Senate Votes To Take Up The Logan-Walter Bill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—(P)—Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), asserting that "strikes against the government" were the "most shameful thing that has happened in this country in a long time," proposed today that Congress outlaw all such strikes during the "emergency period."

He told the House membership, assembled outside the capitol for the first time since 1857, that "labor racketeers" were responsible for the strikes.

"I am wondering," he said, "if Congress does not have the vitality or the real courage to take notice of what is happening to this country and do something in an effort to remedy it."

The House had no business before it, and the session was devoted to speeches on various subjects. The meeting was held in the ways and means committee room of one of the two House office buildings because of repairs being made to the capitol roof.

The Senate, likewise, vacated its chamber and moved into another room of the capitol, the one in which the Senate met in the early days of the Republic and which later was occupied by the Supreme Court.

Military Base Of Italians Expected To Fall Shortly

Financial Aid To Britain Will Be Considered

Credits Not To Be Taken Up Before Present Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—(P)—Secretary Hull said today that the whole question of financial aid for Great Britain apparently would have to be considered by governmental and congressional authorities, with a view to establishing a basic policy, before specific methods were discussed.

Hull spoke at a press conference after the subject of British credits was discussed, along with other topics, at an hour and one-half conference between President Roosevelt and congressional leaders.

Senate Democratic Leader Barkley left the White House meeting with word that the question of British credits would not be taken up at the current session of congress.

Hull's comment was in reply to several questions at his press conference on statements of Lord Lothian, the British ambassador who has just returned from London, that financing of the war would become a serious question for Great Britain next year.

Hull, who returned today from a brief vacation in Georgia, said he had not yet had an opportunity to discuss the matter with other officials or with Lothian.

He indicated that while the question had not yet reached the stage of active consideration within the government, he expected that it would in the near future.

Discuss Matter Broadly

In discussing the matter broadly, Hull recalled that the World War debt question was considered first by an inter-department government committee and that congressional leaders later were called in to the discussion.

He said he could not express an opinion, without further study, as to whether some form of assistance might be found possible without revision of the Johnson and neutrality acts by congress.

He likewise would not comment on an unofficial suggestion in London that the problem might

Start Move To Donate Bomber

BURBANK, Calif., Nov. 25.—(P)—Representatives of the 20,000 employees at Lockheed and Vega aircraft plants started a movement today to give the Royal Air Force a $10,000 Hudson bomber as a Christmas present.

E. J. Morgan, an employee of the Vega material planning department, said workers had agreed through their two recreation organizations to donate their time to building the craft.

Morgan added that company officials had received "enthusiastically" a proposal that parts and plant facilities be donated.

"The British are responsible for many of us working," Morgan declared, "and we think a Christmas gift would be a fine thing." Morgan said "We plan to paste 'Do not open until Christmas' seals on the bomb chutes. We think that will appeal to British humor."

Find No Trace Of Explosive

BOSTON, Nov. 25.—(P)—Marines searched nearly 5,000 day shift workmen at Boston's big navy yard today while a large detail of police stood guard as a result of a report that an attempt would be made to bring a time bomb or dynamite into the yard.

A squad of 75 police, 30 in plain clothes, were rushed to the yard, where several destroyers are under construction and others are being fitted out in round-the-clock shifts, after Captain Bernhard Graham, night police superintendent, received a hurry-up call for aid from the yard. Graham quoted a navy yard spokesman, whom he did not identify, as saying that:

"Information has been received from a most authoritative source that an attempt would be made at 7 a. m. by a navy yard workman to bring in a time bomb or a quantity of dynamite when he went to work."

An additional detail of 25 officers was hurried to the yard shortly after dawn. No trace of an explosive had been found after the greater part of the day shift had reported for work.

Marines conducted the actual examination as police stood by, keeping the workmen in line and maintaining order. The navy yard has been under a tight guard for several months.

The marines examined both clothes and lunch boxes, and inspected workmen's cars closely. The navy yard itself refused comment.

The Weather

Light rain tonight and Tuesday, somewhat warmer to night and in east Tuesday.

Holding Prices Down

The only excuse, socially speaking, for "big business," is that by producing goods in quantity and efficiently, they are made cheaper and therefore more readily available to more people.

When "big business" becomes a monopoly, however, its tendency is to hold prices up as high as the traffic will bear without actually halting consumption. That is the traditional explanation of the way the system works.

Right in the face of the theory there now flies the Aluminum Co. of America, which is certainly "big business" and generally regarded as a monopoly producer of virgin aluminum. Three times during the past year the company has reduced its prices for aluminum ingot, thus making a voluntary reduction in the company's gross income for the year of perhaps $5,000,000.

What goes on here? Is the idea spreading that even "big business" can make more money in the long run by reducing prices, passing on and trusting to the savings of mass production, up the foregone profits? It is interesting to see the Aluminum Co. out ahead of the parade of those who are determined to avert the general price rise that so often accompanies "boom" conditions.

Another New High Reached

Recent weeks have been just a succession of new highs. The census showed a new high in population. Electric power production reaches and passes new peaks every week or so. General industrial production is at a new high. Farm purchasing power is believed now above that of 1929. Steel production eclipses the palmy days of the boom. Lots of things are getting bigger and better than ever before.

Right along with all these is the government payroll. Latest report of the Civil Service Commission shows that government workers now number 1,058,596, with monthly salaries of $160,000,000—more civil workers to run the regular government departments than were needed in World War days.

That gives a clew as to how really difficult it is going to be to slash ordinary government expenditures to make more room for the defense costs within the budget. Every one of those jobs is somebody's vested interest. That somebody is willing to do battle to prove it.

Remember the Shelter Belt?

Six years have passed, and most of us have completely recovered from the gasp and the deprecatory chuckle with which we looked at the plans for a great shelter belt of trees which should redeem miles of dust bowl from the encroaching desert.

Absurd! Too visionary! Trees won't grow! Magnificent! Crack-pot!

So we spoke, looking at that drawing of a continent-wide tree belt where no trees grew before.

Six growing seasons have passed. In eastern South Dakota 32,000,000 trees are growing and thriving on 4,229 farms. About 70 per cent of the trees in this area survived, despite farmers' skepticism.

Similar reports come from North Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. It is too early to claim that the trees have redeemed every promise made for them—to change the very climate and turn desert into Eden. But their very survival gives hope that we can do more than some believed to change the face of the country and make it bloom according to our own desires.

Looking Backward

Forty Years Ago

Windsor now has electric lights with the completion of a plant there which went into operation last weekend. The town was lighted by ten street lamps and about 300 lights in business houses and residences. The dynamo used has power for 650 lights and is run by a 63-horse power engine.

Joseph Mercurio, who formerly operated a fruit store in Sedalia, now has a similar establishment out on Market street in St. Louis, not far from Union station.

George C. Miller, a former compositor on the Democrat here, is now publisher of the Weekly Democrat at Hutchinson, Kas., where Fenn Leaming, another Sedalia printer, is also employed.

Leon Barnard, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Barnard of this city, is a member of Smith's Academy Glee club, St. Louis, and a good picture of him was presented in the Sunday Globe-Democrat.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON—Capitol police have kept the matter under wraps, but a half stick of dynamite was found near the entrance of the underground Senate garage.

The explosive was wrapped in old newspapers and did not appear to have been "planted." It might have been accidentally dropped or discarded. But what is worrying police authorities is why anyone with dynamite in his possession should be around the capitol.

One result of the incident has been an intensification of the guard not only of the capitol but of the platform over the main steps, from which President Roosevelt will deliver his third inaugural address on January 20.

The stand, nearing completion, now is watched continuously day and night by a special police detail. The night shifts, from 4 p. m. to 8 a. m., do nothing but patrol the immediate vicinity of the platform. Starting this week, the watch will be augmented by a round-the-clock detail of firemen, ready with hose and other equipment for any emergency.

The guard of the capitol has been stepped up to include a daily inspection of the vast structure from the soaring dome to the subterranean basements. Police are under strict orders to report immediately suspicious individuals and articles.

Elephant Hunter

The publication of a story that House Democratic Floor Leader John McCormack and his wife, Harriet, former Metropolitan Opera star, once drove several miles to keep a turtle from being run over, has brought them some ribbing from friends.

But Mrs. McCormack had a snappy comeback during a discussion of the 2,500-mile stumping tour she and her husband made during the campaign.

"Did you run over any turtles?" grinned a friend.

"No," shot back Mrs. McCormack, "but we did put the turtles on a lot of elephants."

"Loyal Opposition"

Two weeks have elapsed since Wendell Willkie's post-election broadcast, but Republican leaders still are in the dark as to just who and what he meant by a "loyal opposition."

Privately, they make it clear that he had not consulted them and did not talk for them. This is particularly true of the congressional group, who do not concede the defeated standard bearer the right to tell them what to do and how to do it. They consider themselves the party's elected spokesmen and they are taking orders from no one.

If Willkie meant that the Willkie clubs would constitute the "loyal opposition," this is a subject about which the party chiefs see red.

Few of them have any love for the Willkie clubs. They view the movement coldly as a group of starchy-eyed amateurs, who were a constant source of undercover irritation during the campaign and are sure to mean trouble to the regulars in the future.

This feeling has not been lulled by the word reaching party chiefs that certain Willkie club zealots are urging the clubs to turn their attention to "cleaning up organization bad spots."

If, as the regulars fear, the clubs' "loyal opposition" aim is to become a pressure group for the purpose of taking control of the party organization and laying down party policies, there is a bitter war in the offing. The regulars definitely will not submit to this, and with the party machinery firmly in their hands they are in a position to get tough about it.

Anti-Willkie Regulars

One key factor in the situation that apparently both Willkie and the club leaders have overlooked is that he was not an organization choice at the Philadelphia convention.

Willkie was an outsider and the boys boarded his wagon only when they had to. Also, and equally important, the regulars were forced to play second fiddle in his campaign. He consulted very few of them and left many barked shins by either deliberate or unwitting tactlessness. There are plenty of party leaders who think this had a lot to do with the fact that Willkie's vote trailed the local GOP tickets in practically every state.

Further, there is the matter of 1944. Already a number of possibilities are quietly laying plans for that year—Governor Bricker and Senator-elect Burton of Ohio, Tom Dewey, Governor Saltonstall of Massachusetts, Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, and others.

The 1944 hopefuls are hardly likely to continue to boost Mr. Willkie. They and their backers are not going to permit, if they can help it, any usurpation of the 1944 accolade by the 1940 lame duck. He had his chance and they want theirs.

So the GOP leaders are laying low, keeping their powder dry and waiting for Willkie's next move. They are prepared to supply plenty of "loyal opposition" to the New Deal—and also to Willkie and the clubs if they try to run the show.

Defense Telephones

The National Defense Commission has a way of getting things done in a hurry—when it knows the right people.

When its offices first were being organized, Edward Stettinius, young, hard-working chairman of the United States Steel corporation and now commissioner for raw materials, had trouble with his telephone. The phone system, newly installed, was slow and none too efficient.

Finally Stettinius picked up the receiver and called Walter S. Gifford in New York. Gifford, besides being head of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, had served for years as a director of U. S. Steel, and Stettinius knew him well.

"Walter," said Stettinius, "our telephone service is terrible down here. Can't you do something about it?"

Within about thirty minutes telephone experts from the local Washington office walked in, and Mr. Stettinius has had no complaints to make since.

ALL'ROUND 4-H'ER

MISSOURI'S "all-around" 4-H Club girl, Margaret Manetka, 18, of Eureka, St. Louis county, is named by Helen L. Church, state club agent, to receive an all-expense trip to the 15th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago Nov. 29-Dec. 7. She has a superior 19 year record in homemaking projects, which comprise decorating and furnishing her bedroom, sewing 41 garments, canning 824 pints of fruits and vegetables, and preparing 28 meals and 157 dishes. The girl won seven trips to state round-ups and $40.25 on her exhibits which raise her project value to $402.55. A champion for each of the four extension sections and for two at large will be announced at the Chicago conclave, where they will be awarded $200 scholarships given by Montgomery Ward, donor also of trips for state winners. The contest, held for the 15th year, is conducted in cooperation with the extension service to broaden the interest and knowledge of 4-H girls in home arts.

Mind Your Manners

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Should a girl wear a sorority pin on an evening dress?
2. Is it good manners for a college man to go into a sorority house and shout upstairs for his date?
3. Is it usually customary for a college man to send a girl a corsage when she invites him to her sorority dance and it is formal?
4. When a college girl wears a man's fraternity pin does it mean they are engaged?
5. Should a girl accept a man's fraternity pin if she expects to date other men?

What would you do if—
You and your date arrive at a fraternity dance—

- (a) Go up and speak to the chaperons before starting to dance?
- (b) Feel that members of the committee appointed to look after the chaperons are the only ones who need to bother with them?

Answers

1. No.
2. No.
3. Yes, in most schools.
4. Yes. Though college engagements are often short lived.
5. No.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Devounced" the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday December 1, 1940.

Golden Text: Isaiah 45:22: "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world" (1 John 4:1).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science goes to the bottom of mental action, and reveals the theodicy which indicates the rightness of all divine action, as the emanation of divine Mind, and the consequent wrongness of the opposite so-called action,—evil, occultism, necromancy, mesmerism, animal magnetism, hypnotism" (p. 104).

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels

with herb laxative, combined with syrup pepsin to make it agreeable and easy to take

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with good old Syrup Pepsin to make your laxative more agreeable and easier to take. For years many Doctors have used pepsin compounds, as agreeable carriers to make other medicines more palatable when your "taster" feels easily upset. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna, combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully its herb Laxative Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines, to bring welcome relief from constipation. And see how its Syrup Pepsin makes Dr. Caldwell's medicine smooth and agreeable to a touchy gut. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna at your drugist's today. Try one laxative that won't bring on violent distaste, even when you take it after a full meal.

Society And Clubs

A farewell turkey dinner was given Sunday evening in honor of Captain John C. "Jack" McLaughlin, by thirty-six of his friends, at the Sedalia Country Club. Captain McLaughlin today left for Columbia where he joined the Regimental Staff of the 128th Field Artillery which mobilized to prepare to go to Camp Jackson for a year's training.

The party was held in the large ball room of the Country club with the tables being appropriately decorated with small American flags, and red and white flowers.

Frank Hayes acted as toastmaster during the dinner. Several short talks were given by the various guests followed by a presentation to Captain McLaughlin of a gift from the group. Captain McLaughlin in his talk said the year baring him away from home seemed to be a long time but it would be a short sojourn because of the amount of activity being crowded into twelve months.

Following the dinner dancing was enjoyed while others played various games.

Those who were present were: Captain and Mrs. McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Philip McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Heber U. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dean, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Abeles, Mr. and Mrs. George Dugan, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Scruton, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hedderich, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. D. Kelly Scruton, Mrs. Harvey Brimmer and Miss Marian Phipps.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Staley, 2221 East Ninth street entertained thirty children Saturday afternoon in honor of the tenth birthday anniversary of their son, Billy. The children enjoyed the afternoon, playing various games and, all joined in singing "Happy Birthday" to Billy. He received many nice gifts. Those present were:

Maureen Moore, Norma Millborn, Alice Jean Cramer, Geraldine Abney, Martha Hinken, Joan Ellis, June Kubli, Joyce Kubli, Velma Wilcox, Dorothy Rodgers, Beverly Rose, John Neil Rose, Billy Hinken, Harvey May, Jack Wilcox, Jim Wilcox, Cecil Grandfield, Johnny Cook, Milton Cook, Billy Lessley, Gibby Morgan, Donald Moore, Danell Porter, Billy Gail Porter, Joseph Waters, Ralph Water, Sonny Steele, Bobby Tipton, Charles Staley and Billy Staley.

Mr. and Mrs. Staley were assisted in entertaining by Billy's grandmother, Mrs. L. C. Howell, Miss Ruth Franklin and Mrs. G. F. Scheider.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Woolery 1318 South Harrison, entertained a large number of relatives and friends for dinner Sunday in honor of the birthdays of Mrs. Claude Woolery and her sister, Miss Erma Sampson.

Those attending were: Roy Woolery, of St. Louis, Mrs. Jewel Paxton and children, "Bid," David, Paul Johnny, Francis, Katherine and Roy, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Miller and children, Kenneth Wayne and Dennis Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lessley and children Mary, Alice, Bobby, Virginia and Charles Freddy, Mrs. Georgia Sampson, Miss Ruth Bennett, Vergil Schumaker, Jack Underhill and Miss Erma Sampson.

Today's Pattern

Captivating In Contrast Pattern 8769

This is such a pretty frock that it's equally charming in one color or two, but since there's such a vogue for two-toned effects, you'll want at least one version in sharp contrast. Design No. 8769 has a figure line that looks simply adorable on petite junior sizes. Stitched tucks break into soft fullness in the bodice and skirt front, making you round and slim in just the right places. The corset waistline has strap fastenings to call attention to its littleness. And the frock is very easy to make.

Wool jersey, flannel, wool crepe and spun rayon are excellent materials for this, and it's especially effective, as pictured, in a combination of plaid wool and plain. Detailed sew chart accompanies this design.

Pattern No. 8769 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17 and 19. Size 13, 31-2 yards of 39-inch material without nap; 11-8 yards contrast with long sleeves; 34 yard with short.

• Girl Scout Notes

Notes from the office:

Twenty-nine Girl Scout and Brownie troops re-registered this week. If there are any girls who have not re-registered, please do so as soon as possible. Your leader will take your registration. Our commissioner, Mrs. C. A. Wright was in Hamilton, Ohio, recently and visited the Girl Scout office there. She brings back a lot of interesting stories of Girl Scouting in that city. Mrs. J. E. Hurley, Mrs. Abe Bertman, Mrs. Lawrence Barnett and Miss Phipps attended the Field Institute for Council members in Marshall, Missouri and had a very busy time trading experiences with council members from Marshall and Booneville. The Christmas party for all the leaders (and council members if they would like to attend) will be at Keucks Tavern, December 9th. Don't forget!

Brownie troop 53 met Tuesday at Broadway school. We gave our pennies to the "penny collector" and then we cut out pictures of pets and pasted them in our scrap book. We will give the book away at Christmas time.

Margie McLaughlin, scribe

Brownie troop 57 met at Mark Twain with Mrs. Overstreet, our leader. Mrs. Shores, our assistant leader had gone away for Thanksgiving. We had our penny march and we had eleven cents today. All the Brownies were asked if they had some doll furniture to help furnish the doll house we are to furnish for the nursery. We pasted pictures in our scrap book, and then we went home.

Shirley Kanter, scribe

Troop 8 met at Horace Mann school, Monday. We opened the meeting with roll call and as their names were called, every one told what they were thankful for. We talked about Thanksgiving and old stories. We have two new girls in our troop. Jerry Brown is back from Pueblo, Colo., and Lucile Aldredges is to join our troop.

Doris Michael, scribe

Troop 22 met at Broadway school Wednesday. Eleven of us know our laws and promise perfectly and are ready to be Tenderfoot Scouts. Mary Frances Borne is to be a new member of our troop next month.

Elaine Ehrler, scribe

Troop 17 met Tuesday at Mark Twain school and we voted to take twelve cents from our treasury to make up the dollar for our Thanksgiving basket. We will not have a meeting next Tuesday because of the parade down town. We divided into patrols and did some work.

Gayle Scruton, scribe

Troop 9 met Tuesday at Washington school. We had fifteen girls present. The patrol leaders had their patrols say their laws and promise. We worked requirements for badges.

Virginia Biery, Scribe

The meeting of troop 10 was called to order by the president. We collected our nickels for the chicken for our Thanksgiving basket. The food that was brought was checked off and we had a full basket of nice things. We discussed our Girl Scout candy sale. We hope to earn enough by Christmas for our uniforms.

Carolyn Joyce Morgan, scribe

Brownie troop 61 met at St. Patrick's school Tuesday afternoon. We had roll call and said our Brownie promise and sang the Brownie song. We made plans for our Christmas scrap book.

Oda Marie Boss, scribe

Brownie troop 58 met at Jefferson school Monday. We sang songs and cut out pictures for our scrap book. We are planning a program to be given at Christmas time.

Joyce Kell, scribe

Brownie troop 56 did not have a meeting this week because of Thanksgiving but last week we sang "God Bless America" and Marjorie Rayl and Nancy Parks sang songs. We are going to make a scrap book for the Nursery for Christmas.

Beverly Miller, scribe

Resistance Stiffens

A Greek spokesman said stiffening Italian resistance along some of the Fascist routes of retreat indicated a "tendency" to establish a second defense line but added the Greek pursuit had not been stopped.

British troops—their number—undisclosed—were reported authoritatively last night to have been ferried across the Mediterranean by files of British transports and landed at Greek ports where cheering, flag-waving Greeks welcomed them.

The British—many of them described as veterans of the last stand in Flanders and the retreat through Dunkerque—were said to be specialists in equipment, transportation and supplies. They were reported to have been sent as an operating force to work with the RAF in Greece rather than as reinforcements for the Greek army.

Other reports said considerable forces of British and Greek troops were massed in an "expeditionary" army on the Greek island of Crete, awaiting the "zero hour" for a direct assault on the strongly fortified Dodecanese islands.

Claim Fresh Successes

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The German high command, reported fresh successes against England by air and sea, declared today that the port of Bristol was subjected to another "Coventry" raid last night and that a Nazi surface raider "operating overseas" had sunk 95,000 tons of British shipping.

Hundreds of planes pounded Bristol, described as the chief port for entry of United States war supplies, for several hours with hundreds of thousands of pounds of explosives and fire bombs, a communique said. It asserted 45 major fires were started.

Force Fleet Withdrawal

LONDON, Nov. 25.—(AP)—British naval sources said today the RAF's bombing of the Italian fleet in the harbor of Taranto, had forced the Italian navy to withdraw the major portion of its fleet from the badly damaged port to an undisclosed place of greater safety.

The Italian fleet movement, the British said, was disclosed by photographs released for publication today. They were taken by British scouting planes making daylight flights as low as 6,000 feet above the fortified port.

British naval sources said the total strength of the whole of Taranto harbor, just at the instep of the Italian boot, at the time of the first attack November 11 was six battleships, ten cruisers, 27 destroyers and a large number of submarines.

After the attack by British planes, these sources said, only three battleships, eight cruisers and nine destroyers were left. The four photographs made public today were taken on a second scouting flight, November 14, three days after the attack, and after a preliminary reconnaissance flight.

Smoker Given For Guardsmen

Jack Reuter and George Meyers, who are in the 128th Field Artillery of the Missouri National Guard, which departs for Camp Jackson, near Columbia, S. are charged to the sale of beer." Eager For Revenue Eagerness of many states to secure revenue for empty treasuries was responsible to a measure, it was pointed out by the speaker, for a lack of proper consideration of enforcement along with regulations for the industry following re-legalization in 1933. "But fortunately for us in the state of Missouri, there has been for a period of the last few years, a determined effort by all our law-enforcement officers to procure a better and more substantial compliance with the liquor laws."

Praise was paid by the speaker to the state department of liquor control, "which understands the problem and is doing everything within its power to prevent violations of the law. Within the past week State Liquor Supervisor C. Ray Noel revoked eight licenses and suspended two others against whom complaints were previously filed by our committee.

"In organizing the Missouri Brewers' Association and Beer Distributors' committee we have been authorized to aid the officers in procuring a better law enforcement, not because of any deficiency in the present method of control by the state, but in order to help them in their already sincere efforts to procure an enforcement of the law," the speaker stated.

Speaking through the Rotary club to the people of Sedalia and Pettis county, Mr. Pierce asked that "you allow us to join hands with you in procuring for you and ourselves, in our business the kind of law compliance you have a right to expect."

"If you will report the incidents connected with the sale of our product which aggravate you, to our office in St. Louis, then we will investigate the premises complained of and if our findings warrant a report to the state or local authorities, we will ask that the offender's license be revoked and that he be prosecuted in the criminal courts," he said.

To Have Thompson

Ernest Thompson, president presided and Fred Brink, to serve as program chairman for December announced the December 2 meeting would be in charge of J. U. Morris, chairman of the rural neighbor committee. A 4-H club demonstration will be given. Ralph Carrel introduced these guests: George A. Hearne and Chris Johnson, both of Warrensburg, James C. Kirkpatrick, St. Louis, Heber U. Hunt and Ellisworth Green.

It was stated the Sedalia Rotarians now have two honorary members, John W. Stover and "Jack" McLaughlin.

Tuesday evening, November 26, the first of four fireside meetings will be held at the home of the president Ernest Thompson, Emil

Destruction By RAF Raiders In Axis Cities

Bombs Are Dropped On The Krupp Works At Essen, Germany

LONDON, Nov. 25.—(AP)—British bombers capped a weekend of smashing blows at the axis by raiding Hamburg last night while the Germans were concentrating a 100-plane attack on a town in western England, official reports said today.

The RAF carried its offensive anew to the German port, biggest in Europe, by dumping bombs on its water front and vast oil refineries, the air ministry announced. Other British raiders were said to have splashed bombs along the Nazi-held French coast.

The attack on the town in western England was said to have been carried out by German bombers coming in virtually continuous churches, two theaters and several shops were among the buildings reported hit.

London had one of its quietest week ends since the air siege began but a communique today said one section in the west of England was attacked heavily with damage to buildings and some residents killed and injured, from dusk to midnight last night.

British fliers who carried the air war into Germany and Italy Saturday night and Sunday morning brought back accounts of flaming destruction at Berlin, Essen, Leipzig and Duisburg-Ruhrort in Germany, at Boulogne, Brest and Lorient in France, and at Turin, where the Italian royal arsenal and the big Fiat works were reported attacked.

The British said bombs were dropped on the Krupp works at Essen and large fires were started in long, heavy attacks on the Pulitzstrasse and Lehrter freight yards, the Potsdamer station, and rail yards between the Potsdamer and Anhalter stations, all in Berlin.

Pilots said they could see Berlin's famous Unter Den Linden and the Tiergarten clearly.

Beat Back Attackers

British anti-aircraft fire and fighter plane patrols beat back many of the German and Italian warplanes which attacked England in relays yesterday, British reports said, but the raiders broke through after dark.

Continuous relays of bombers were said to have concentrated on a town in western England where a home for the aged, two churches, two theatres and several shops were reported among the buildings hit.

When the attack dwindled near midnight townspeople toured the debris-strewn streets to view the damage.

Long range guns continued to take turns hurling shells across the Strait of Dover.

Sirens sounded London's first daylight alert near mid-day today but the all clear sounded after a short time in which no incidents were reported.

Meanwhile reports from the western town which bore the brunt of last night's attack said bombers flying singly arrived one after another "almost continuously" for several hours.

The first of the invaders dropped "scores of incendiaries," it was said, causing fires which served as guides for succeeding planes with high explosives.

"Large numbers" of parachute flare also were dropped.

An intensive anti-aircraft barrage throughout the concentrated attack caused shell fragments to rain down upon houses in many parts of the town as the bombs were falling.

These reports from the west England town agreed that the loss of life was small in comparison with the magnitude of the attack.

Set Coast Alight

A SOUTHEAST COAST TOWN, England, Nov. 25.—(AP)—British bombers set the coast alight from Boulogne to Cap Gris Nez tonight while Nazi long-range guns shook the British shore with an intense barrage.

Observers also believe the German gunners are attempting to blast out of the water a British shipping convoy which passed down the English channel just before dusk.

Mrs. Lena Williams Dies At A State Sanatorium

Mrs. Lena Williams, 30 years old, passed away at Mt. Vernon, Mo., at the State sanatorium there, Sunday afternoon. Surviving her is her husband, Burton Williams, and three children, Irene, Helen and Junior.

Three brothers and three sisters, and her mother Mrs. Anna Robinson, also survive.

The body was brought to the Ferguson Funeral Home. No funeral arrangements have been made.

Refrigerator Truck Stolen

A large refrigerator truck of the Meadow Gold Ice Cream Co., driven by Perry Perkins, Boonville, was stolen from in front of 1316 West Fourth street Sunday night. The truck was later recovered parked behind 115 East Pacific street.

administrative procedure would report on December 1. Seventeen Democrats joined 16 Republicans and Senator Shipstead (FL-Minn.) in ordering consideration of the measure, a move strongly opposed by Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader. Twenty-one Democrats voted against the motion to consider, made by Senator Hatch (D-N.M.).

He said the measure as drawn would result in "putting the courts in charge of the executive departments" and asserted that some proponents supported the measure for the purpose of "curbing" the National Labor Board and the Securities Commission.

Senator Austin (R-Vt.) contended, however, that it was a "grave error to permit these bureaus to arbitrarily make these rules without notice and without hearing."

Senator Burke (D-Neb.), a supporter of the legislation, asserted that it had been carefully drawn after long study, had passed the House and that to defer its consideration until next year would mean that both chambers would have to "start from scratch" on the subject.

The Senate formally named Senator George (D-Ga.) as chairman of the Foreign Relations committee, succeeding Senator Key Pittman (D-Ne.) who died recently. The Democratic majority had chosen George for the chairmanship at a meeting Saturday.

Obituary

Charles Necessary

Charles Necessary, 84 years old, well known resident of the Smith-ton neighborhood, passed away at his home south of Smithton about 6:25 o'clock Sunday morning. He had been in declining health for some time.

Mr. Necessary was born February 2, 1856 at Withville, West Virginia, the son of the late Wesley and Anna Necessary. As a young man he came to Missouri to reside making his home in Jackson, County, near Buckner, Mo. Twenty-two years ago he came to Pettis county and resided on a farm south of Smithton.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Alice N. Necessary, of the home, and the following children: Elmer of Kingsville, Hardy and Acey of La Tour, Mo., James, of Lone Jack, Bryan, of Independence, and Miss Mamie Necessary of the family home.

Funeral services were conducted at 11 o'clock this morning at the family home, after which the body was taken to the Oakland church, near Buckner, where services were conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The Reverend L. M. Starkey district superintendent of the Methodist churches, officiated. Pallbearers were friends of the of the family. Interment was in the church cemetery.

The body was taken to the Gillespie Funeral Home and returned to the family home Sunday afternoon.

Spotty Trend On Stock Market

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Efforts to instill a little rallying vim in today's stock market were partially successful.

The list was at its best in the morning when gains for steels and other selected industrials ranged from fractions to 2 points. Selling then came in and top marks were substantially reduced or converted into declines. There was a mild pickup in the final hour, although closing quotations were spotty.

Dealings reverted to sluggishness after a fair amount of opening activity and transfers were around 500,000 shares, smallest turnover for a full session in about a month.

Personals

Dr. Jennie Dunkin is home from Kirksville, Mo., where she enjoyed Thanksgiving and the weekend with her sister, Mrs. Emma Smith.

Stansel DeFoe, son of Mrs. G. W. McKelvey, 1900 South Summit avenue, who has been on a cruise for the past several weeks, returned home Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Ernst, of 246 South Prospect, are home from a two weeks visit with their daughter, Mrs. C. F. Ernst, and family in Jefferson City.

Mrs. Charles E. S. Rich and daughter, Nancy June, of Washington, D. C., have been visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hurlbut, family and friends here.

Quite a "grown-up" project for any young boy is building a realistic, workable lift-bridge like that pictured above. This construction set makes a great Christmas present for young engineers. Among other things it will build is a parachute jump, complete with little "chutes that float down from the tower.

S.-C. Alumni In Victory Over Clinton 6-0

Sedalians Play With Only 13 Players; Get Score First Quarter

Who said "13" wasn't a lucky number? It isn't the belief of the Smith-Cotton high school Alumni football team now, because they defeated Clinton high school Alumni gridsters 6 to 0 Sunday afternoon. Yes Sedalia had only thirteen players to be used in the game at Clinton.

It was the second time these two teams have played this season, the first game being a scoreless tie, and played on the Sedalia gridiron. More than 300 fans saw the game Sunday at Clinton.

30-Yard Pass
The Tiger Alumni play was set up about the middle of the first quarter when Sedalia took the ball on the Clinton 40-yard line. Clayton Morris plunged the line for five yards. The next play Paul Evans whipped a 30 yard pass to Jack Woods placing the ball on the five yard stripe.

Evans then carrying the ball plunged through the line for the last five yards and a touchdown. The Sedalians failed to make the extra point.

When it came time for the Sedalia players to gather together and go to Clinton, many of the Alumni gridsters who played in the first game failed to report. When only thirteen were available they left for Clinton even minus a coach.

Two Substitutes
The Sedalians played hard through the game using one backfield substitute and one line substitute. When they returned home Sunday night they were a happy group of boys but a bunch of weary lads.

The Sedalia lineup was: Rider and Sullivan ends; Dalstedt and King tackles; Wild and Hall, guards; Morgenstern at center; Paul Evans, quarterback, Cecil Hill and Jack Woods half backs, and Clayton Morris full back. Horace Nichols, an end, substituted in the line and Connie Michaels in the backfield.

Clinton's lineup: Kimsley and McNutt ends; Hartie and Barrows, tackles; Mansfield and McKinley, guards; Hill at center; Scrogam and La Hue at half back positions; McQueen quarterback and Aggie McMillian full back.

Give Governor Oil Portrait

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 25.—(P)—An oil portrait of himself will be Gov. Lloyd C. Stark's parting gift from his official appointees who served with him during his four-year administration which ends in January.

More than 20 state department heads called at the executive mansion yesterday to notify Stark of the gift. It will be painted by Charles F. Galt of St. Louis and hung in the New Stark home near Louisiana alongside a portrait of Mrs. Stark by the same artist. Galt also painted the portrait of Mrs. Stark which hangs in the executive mansion.

The presentation of the gift was made at the mansion yesterday during a double celebration of the governor's 54th birthday and the Starks' ninth wedding anniversary.

Vitt To Pilot Portland Club

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 25.—(P)—Oscar Vitt, released as manager of the Cleveland Indians, is back on the baseball warpath again, this time as pilot of the Portland club in the Pacific Coast League.

Club President E. J. Scheffer announced last night that the man who piloted Cleveland to second place in the American League last year and then was fired had signed a one-year contract shortly after arriving here from his Oakland, Calif., home.

Salary terms were not announced, but Vitt said he was "well satisfied." There was talk the contract called for around $10,000.

Tigers Have Eye On Christman

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.—(P)—The Detroit Tigers admit they're eyeing Paul Christman.

"Our scout in this area has been watching Paul for some time," said Jack Zeller, secretary and general manager of the Detroit club. "From what we have learned, however, Christman wants to play with Missouri's baseball team in the spring and also get his degree in June so we're making no bid now."

The University of Missouri football star was in St. Louis for the Thanksgiving vacation, but Zeller said he had not seen or talked with him.

Paul is a first baseman. His older brother, Mark, formerly played with Detroit.

Canvass Begins On Vote Tuesday

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 25.—(P) Secretary of state Dwight Brown said today his office would begin tomorrow afternoon its canvass of the votes cast in the Nov. 5 general election.

The count, which usually requires several days, will be watched closely because of the slim 3,504-vote margin which complete unofficial returns gave Republican Forrest C. Donnell in the gubernatorial contest.

The secretary of state's canvass still will not make the outcome official, as he merely certifies the county-by-county returns to the general assembly which will make the formal canvass when it convenes in January.

Brown said he set tomorrow for beginning the count after being assured Gov. Lloyd C. Stark would be on hand at that time to witness the opening of the returns. He also asked the attorney general to have a representative present. The last county to report, St. Francois, was expected to file its returns late today.

Wood Expended $881 In Campaign

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 25.—(P)—Rep. Reuben T. Wood of Springfield spent $881 in his unsuccessful campaign for re-election to congress from the Sixth district, he reported to the secretary of state today.

Wood lost to Phil A. Bennett, Springfield Republican.

Rep. Orville Zimmerman of Kennett spent $815 in winning re-election in the 10th district.

Class To Meet On Tuesday Night

The I. X. L. class of the Epworth Methodist church, taught by Mrs. W. A. Green, will have their monthly meeting at the church Tuesday night. The usual 6:30 covered dish dinner to which all contribute will be followed by a short business meeting and party. Plans will be completed for the annual Christmas party and all members are asked to be present.

16,000 Miles On Horseback

Gauchito Marcelino Soule, an eight-goal polo player from the Argentine, will probably want to stand up for a year after he gets off his mount, Argentina. On July 27, 1938 he started a 16,000-mile ride from his home to present his horse to the President in Washington. Now in Texas, where he's pictured above, he hopes to be in the capital by March, 1941.

No Time For Comedy

Jimmie Stewart is hitting the comedy high spots in the Uptown's new laugh hit, which ironically enough is entitled "No Time For Comedy." If you liked what Jimmie did in Washington, you'll be crazy about what he does on Broadway, and if you liked what Rosalind did to "The Women," just wait till you see what she does to the men.

There are probably no other two stars who could fit so slickly into the two principal roles as Stewart and Miss Russell, and their teamwork makes comedy history. As the cub reporter from the sticks who suddenly finds himself and his plays a huge success on Broadway, Stewart is completely bewildered. Miss Russell's suave assurance in the role of his actress wife, who protects him from the Broadway wolves and the Park avenue blondes, is one of the year's standout performers.

Serial Story Dude College

By Oren Arnold

Copyright 1940, NEA Service, Inc.

CHAPTER I.
MR. THOMAS U. BAILEY awoke at dawn. To his astonishment he had slept soundly, and to his further astonishment he felt good. He sat on the edge of the bed, shivered, even though it was only September 4, then reached for his robe and walked out onto the broad veranda.

He leaned his hand against a log post and inhaled deeply. Next he patted what should have been his manly chest and said a long "ah-h-h-h-h!" Then — and this would have been news in New York — Mr. Thomas U. Bailey actually smiled.

"Is good morning, Senor Bailey, eh?"

A friendly Mexican said that, a cook in the ranch house here who had come out to probe the new boss.

"Wonderful, Fabian! Just look there!" Mr. Bailey pointed and said "ah-h-h-h-h!" again.

"There" was a 90-mile expanse of that western entity known as room-enough. Specifically, it began here in New Mexico, but the panorama of it swept from a hazy eastern point that was Texas, across the Line into Chihuahua, and on around into the bold blue-west that was Arizona. It was all a magnificent palette of colors mostly in sunrise pastels now, broken only by the distant sleeping mountains and the more alert Spanish daggers growing nearer at hand. It was all a landscape to make any man say ah-h-h-h-h!

"You have estomach for the many wheat cake and esauage again this morning, eh? You have good digest now."

"Fabian, my good man, I could eat a fried horse this morning! Indigestion? Pouff!" Pot-bellied Mr. Thomas U. Bailey snapped his fingers in disdain. "Why does a man stay in a city and ruin his health? Why didn't I buy a ranch 10 years ago, Fabian? Or 20 years ago? What if I did make a fortune manufacturing airplanes? No New York penthouse has this view or this altitude or this exhilarating crispness in the air."

"Fabian, I'm uprooting myself from the east. I'm going to bring Miss Ronnie out here at once—do her good—do her good—all that artificial hoity-toity bustle and—"

"See here Fabian, I want coffee this morning, too. I haven't had coffee in years. And have a horse saddled for me at once. I'm going to try that riding business again this morning and—well, get going Fabian, get going!"

"Si," Fabian grinned and departed. "Si, senor. Es muy bueno!"

It was, indeed, very good, to see the renowned capitalist Thomas U. Bailey acting like a human being again, he who had come west as a touchy invalid. It was 2 a. m. before the telegraph company could locate Miss Ronnie Bailey.

The telegram, phoned first to Cloudtop ranger station thence via the Lazy Y 4 and the Cross S ranches into Pueblo, New Mexico, got into New York City about noon. But Miss Bailey, her maid reported, was up at 11 and off to fly her new plane down to Camden to see a friend. Camden reported her on the way back home and suggested they try Andre Girardeau's apartment, because Monsieur Girardeau had flown with her.

Andre's man said they were to

"It's from Dad," Ronnie said. "He wants me to come west, to go to school. I'll have to do as he says."

dine on the river boat Sparling off West Point, but the boat skipper reported by wireless that Ronica and Andre had joined some hilarious friends who came by in a new super-speed thing not much bigger or sturdier than a canoe. By patient elimination, therefore, they finally found her at 2 a. m. in The Silver Slipper, dancing. "It's from daddy," Ronica said, glancing at the telegram. "I suppose I ought to read it. Let's sit a while, Andre."

They had a table in a booth 700-odd feet above Broadway; and it was—come to discover it—really pleasant just to sit down a moment and be still. For even a play girl can know fatigue eventually. Ronnie ignored Andre Girardeau while she read. All at once, then, Ronnie Bailey slumped.

"Well, it's come," she announced. Andre lifted his eyebrows, expressive always.

"He's been writing about it for days. All hopped up. Said he was much better, and had actually bought the ranch, and that I could have a bigger time there than in the East, Andre—imagine that!"

"Droll!" said Andre, smiling. "Now he says I go neither to Vassar nor any other school back here, but I go this fall to—imagine this—to Pueblo U!"

Andre gave his quizzical look again.

"It's where Deemy Aikin went—did you know her, Andre? And Sue Travers and—oh a lot of kids. It's a little school in New Mexico, in a ranch village, but it's so full of easterners and Californians that they call it Dude College."

Founded by some wealthy couple in 1930. Daddy says he's asking a professor, some Dr. York, to wire for my transfer credits at once. Seems I am to drink up scenery and dry air, and probably dry living as well."

"You—you'll go?" Andre pointed at her with his cigarette. Andre the dark-eyed and dark-mannered bachelor, called the season's Number One war refugee.

"Of course. I—you know daddy. He wears the Bailey pants. And, dam it, Andre, I just naturally love him!"

Because 11 a. m. to 2 a. m. is a long shift for continuous strenuous pleasure seeking, Ronnie asked now to be taken home. The taxi ride wasn't far, just a few blocks over, then up Park Avenue. She didn't say much en route; she just sat cuddled next to handsome Andre, her ebony hair touching his shoulder, and her violet eyes half closed. The haunting, taunting, delicate scent of her still lingered when Andre rode away from the Bailey mansion alone.

EVEN though it was late, Andre Girardeau did not retire when he reached his apartment. Instead, he went on a careful tour of inspection about the place.

He verified that the entry door was locked and that his specially-made little metal disc even covered the keyhole. He saw that no one was in the living room, the bedroom, the nook, the three closets or the kitchen, and that the fire escape was clear and the window shades down. No servant stayed here after midnight unless by special orders, so he knew he was quite alone.

He went then to the medicine chest in his bathroom and momentarily surveyed the little array of bottles there. He took down one labeled "Blaine's Compound, for Muscular Ailments and Bruises; External Use Only." He carried the bottle to his desk, opened it and dipped a pen in it and began to write on an ordinary penny postcard.

The message required 10 minutes, but the liquid left only a watery line that promptly dried and disappeared. With his fountain pen and real ink, then, he wrote right over the same card:

"Dear Aunt Marie:
Have just sent the two books under separate cover. Hope Cissy likes them too. All well here. No news. Love to the fellows.
Affectionately yours,
Charles."

He addressed the stamped side to a woman in Washington, D. C., took the Blaine's Compound back to his bathroom, then went outside again to mail his card in person, pleased that it read sufficiently inane.

Last move, before dropping it in a slot, was to brush the card carefully with the moistened corner of his handkerchief, against the possibility—however remote—of telltale fingerprints.

3. Should a girl ask a man for his photograph, if he has never asked for hers?
4. Is it a good idea to show your guests albums of family snapshots?
5. Is it good manners to put less postage on a heavy letter than you think might be necessary because the persons to whom you are sending it can pay the extra postage if there is any?

What would you do if—
You have taken movies on a trip and would like friends to see

- them, but only if they really want to—
(a) Invite them to your house, and ask them after they are there if they would like to see the movies of your trip?
(b) Mention casually that you took movies, and think they turned out pretty well. If the friends ask to see them, go ahead and show them, but if they don't let the matter drop?

3. No.
4. No.
5. No. Be sure you have enough postage. Otherwise your letter is a nuisance to the person who receives it.

Best "What Would You Do" solution—(b). If you try (a) they'll have to say "Yes"—which is what you want, but what about the poor guests!

A hand containing 13 playing cards of one suit occurs only once in every 615,000,000,000,000 deals, by mathematical odds.

It has been estimated that every year 65,000 girls disappear in the United States, and no trace of them ever is found.

Stories in Stamps

Statue on U. S. Capitol Is Symbol of Defense
AS U. S. speeds its defense program, the statue which crowns the dome of the nation's Capitol at Washington takes on greater significance. For the statue is that of Freedom, armed with helmet, shield and sheathed sword. Not so well known, perhaps, as the Statue of Liberty, this figure is a symbol of a liberty that must be defended.

The head of the statue was used for the design of the U. S. $5 stamp above, the only bi-color stamp of the 1922-23 postage series. The star-studded helmet bears a crest of eagle's beak and plumes.
The bronze statue is 19½ feet high, weighs 15,000 pounds. It was set in place, 307½ feet above the esplanade, Dec. 2, 1863.

Chapter 1 -- Locked in a Toy Store!

OH, JANE, I NEVER SAW SO MANY WONDERFUL TOYS!

THE MAIN IN THIS STORE SAID THESE WERE ONLY A FEW SAMPLES OF THE MILLIONS SANTA WILL DELIVER ON CHRISTMAS!

I WONDER IF THEY'D LET US PLAY WITH THEM FOR A WHILE? WOULDN'T IT BE FUN?

SURE IT WOULD--BUT LOOK! JIMMY, THERE'S NOBODY AROUND. IT MUST BE LATE--WE BETTER GO HOME.

GOLLY, JANE, I CAN'T OPEN THE DOOR!

NO WONDER! LOOK AT THAT SIGN ON THE CURTAIN!

GEE, THE STORE'S CLOSED FOR THE DAY! WE'RE LOCKED IN!

"WOULDN'T BE WITHOUT KruGon AT ANY COST"

Declares Mr. Farmer: Was Distressed With Effects of Constipation For Past Fifteen Years: Headaches, Nervousness and Dizzy Spells Almost Unbearable

"I gladly give this testimonial of what KruGon has done for me in hopes it will induce similar sufferers to give it a fair trial," said Mr. Joe Farmer, 106 Lafayette St., Jefferson City, Missouri. "For fifteen years constipation has just about gotten the best of me. There was such a soreness and aching the entire length of my spine. I also suffered from headaches at times until I would become so nervous and irritable I could hardly stand it. I was troubled much with extreme dizzy spells when I would almost topple over. My digestion was affected too and I had to be careful of my diet. Many times it was impossible for me to work I felt so badly. Then I read about KruGon in the newspaper and decided to give it a trial."

MR. JOE FARMER

"Almost from the first few doses I noticed a remarkable change in my condition," continued Mr. Farmer. "My bowels are regular now and since getting proper elimination I do not have any more of those awful headaches, nerves are calm and those dizzy spells do not trouble me. I can eat anything I wish without ill after effects and my work is no drudgery since feeling so well. My wife and son are also great believers in this wonderful KruGon and we would not be without it in our home at any price."

KruGon is sold by McFarland and Robinson Drug Co., 104 W. Main St., this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns.

J. H. Shuey Is 101 Years Old Today

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.—(P)—James Monroe Shuey celebrated his 101st birthday today, bedfast and almost blind, but still able to tell about coming to Missouri from Ohio by ox cart in 1849.

That same year he and his father joined the gold rush to California, but turned back at Pike's Peak with "only a goose quill full of gold."

Later Shuey farmed in Franklin county, then came to St. Louis and worked for the Missouri Pacific railroad. Married at 18, his descendants include two great-grandchildren.

Shuey, who said he never was sick a day in his life, was unable to give a formula for living a century.

"I guess it is just up to the Lord," he said.

Nine In Missouri In Violent Deaths

By The Associated Press

Missouri counted at least nine violent deaths over the extended Thanksgiving week-end.

Traffic fatalities topped the list with six. A 2-year-old boy died after drinking poison which he believed was grape juice, a man was injured fatally in a fall down stairs, and a woman hanged herself.

Fifteen persons died in highway accidents alone, during the 1939 Thanksgiving week-end.

Second Victim of An Automobile Accident

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 25.—(P)—Bernice Stafford, 16-year-old Elkland girl, died in a hospital here early today, the second victim of an auto accident near Stockton Saturday night.

Lloyd Tolbert, 26, of Fair Play, died Saturday after the car failed to make a curve and turned over. Three others were injured.
